The Anti-Financial Crime forum represents an opportunity for practitioners from a variety of business environments (Fintech, traditional banks, marketplaces and more) to get together and exchange real life examples of financial crime risks. The objective is to share knowledge among experts and bring awareness to the variety of risk typologies impacting the financial sector.